ODDIE TELLS RECENT SPEECH AT RICHMOND

GOVERNOR SAYS WISCONSIN PAPER PLACED WRONG CONSTRUCTION ON VIEWS

Governor Tasker L. Oddie, in Reno this morning having come up from Carson last night for the Shrine banquet, expressed the hope and expectation that the coming session of the legislature will be a very profitable one, says the Gazette.

"Although the legislature will be almost two to one democratic," said he, "it contains some very able men, and if it will only sidestep the stumbling block of doing politics, will accomplish a great deal. We did not do so much politics in past years, except as to the election of United States senator, and the politics in that proceeding is now largely eliminated, so much should be accomplished in the session of 1913."

A committee of the economy commission was in Carson Saturday the governor stated, looking through the state offices, records and methods of doing business. This included former Acting Governor Dickerson, Mr. Price of Reno and Prof. Romanzo Adams. The commission, Governor Oddie states, is beginning to realize what a large-sized undertaking it has on hand in preparing economy recommendations for the legislature.

Speaking of the recent speech he made at Richmond on the divorce question Governor Oddie let slip an incident which was more or less of a grim joke on himself. After plainly and vigorously advocating a change in the divorce residence clause from six months to a year, he was quoted in short dispatches sent out by a newspaper service as being in favor of more liberal divorce laws. A Milwaukee paper thereupon directed a vigorous editorial against this man of straw, denouncing the governor's supposed position. The governor of Wisconsin, en route for home, promised to set the newspaper right on the question.

PAPER HANGER IS TARGET FOR THREE BULLETS THAT MISS MARK

After successfully dodging three bullets that were intended to lodge in his body, Milo Predonovich, a paper hanger working in the Sollerder building, wrested the revolver, with which the shots were fired, from Bill Perovich, and bear the marathon record this afternoon in hurrying to the police station where he informed Chief of Police Smith of the attempt made upon his life. Predonovich charged Perovich with the assault and the latter was placed under arrest, visiting the station in company with several friends to give himself up.

According to the story of Predonovich, he was at his labors when Perovich entered the room and drawing a 32 calibre revolver from his pocket, discharged the weapon three times. The muzzle was pointed in the direction of the paper hanger but the leaden missiles missed their mark and after passing through the walls of the building, entered the A. B. C. hotel and lodged in the partitions of that hostelry. Predonovich wrestled with his assailant and managed to secure the revolver, which contained two loaded cartridges. He then started for the police station, leaving Perovich in charge of the situation.

After the shooting and the flight of his enemy Perovich walked down stairs, met several friends and announced that he wanted to give himself up. He was taken to the police station, arriving there at the time Predonovich was relating his side of the story.

Perovich was placed under arrest and taken to the county jail where he will be held pending further investigation of the case. It is possible the grand jury will take up the matter without the formality of having the justice court first investigate.

The alleged shooting is believed to be the outcome of a civil suit recently decided in the justice court. Predonovich sued Perovich for $20 borrowed money and secured a judgment for this amount. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney J. E. McNamara.

The injured miner was taken to the Miners' hospital and Dr. J. C. Cowden summoned. The patient had lost considerable blood and was somewhat weak when the wound was dressed.
